Near Accord on Plan For Orland School; Favors 1-Story Type

Roy Loebe, 54, Dies Suddenly; Was Active in Civic Affairs

Roy A. Loebe, 54, a life resident of Orland Park, died suddenly last Saturday morning, Jan. 5, at St. Luke's hospital, Chicago.

He had been under treatment for a blood clot for about four weeks and on Dec. 23 had undergone surgery. He was having normal recovery when he suffered a sudden relapse that was fatal.

Mr. Loebe was born Jan. 23, 1902 in the house on 144th st. that was home to him all his life. His parents, the late Albert C. and Ella Mahaffy Loebe, were pioneer residents of this area.

Roy Loebe was a graduate of Northwestern university from which he held degrees in business administration and electrical engineering. He spent most of his working life in the engineering field and in World War II he worked with the Manhattan project at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

In 1926 he opened Orland Electric Shop, which he operated along with his other endeavors, until about a year ago when he embarked on the real estate and insurance business under the firm name of the Loebe Realty Co.

Throughout his life Mr. Loebe took an active part in civic affairs and was never hesitant in stating his position in community affairs. He had served Orland Park as building commissioner, village engineer and was one of the original members of the Planning Commission. He was still a member of that body at the time of his death. He also was active in the Men's club of the Orland Park Methodist church, and was a member of the Western Society of Engineers.

Besides his widow, Margaret McMurray Loebe, he is survived by two children, Ella 10, and Albert, 8, and a step-daughter, Mrs. Gene Wyke, of Greensboro, N. C.

Removal was to the Schmaedek funeral home at Orland Park from where the body was taken Tuesday noon to the Methodist church there to lie in state until 2 o'clock when services were held with the Rev. Robert Plastow officiating. Interment was in Cedar Park cemetery, Blue Island.

Orland Teacher Resigns to Join Husband in Racine

Mrs. Elinor Gower, third grade teacher in the Orland Park grade school, will resign Feb. 1, to join her husband in Racine, Wisc., where he is pastor of the Evangelical Free church. Mrs. Gower, who lives in Park Forest, has been a teacher in the Orland school for the past two years.

Her husband Robert, graduated from the Trinity Seminary in Chicago last June. He recently accepted a call to the Racine church. They are parents of a son, 3 years old.

Voters Approve Bond Issue for Doctor School

As a result of overwhelming approval of a $70,000 bond issue last Saturday, the board of the Doctor school, Dist. 137 in Orland township, will meet next Monday to proceed with plans for a new school necessary to meet a growing enrollment.

It is the hope of the board that bids can be taken in time so that the building will be ready for use next fall.

When the board meets Monday it also will canvass the returns on the special election of last Saturday. Unofficial returns show the total number of votes cast was 52.

The first proposal on the ballot was approval of the site for the new school, a seven-acre tract which is located at approximately 11351 W. 159th st. This site is to cost $7,000. There were 33 persons who voted for this proposition and no one attempted to write in a legal description of any other site.

The voters then proceeded to ballot 40 to 7 to purchase the site; 41 to 7 to build a school and 41 to 7 to issue bonds in the sum of $70,000 to cover the cost of the site and the construction.

The board members, Henry Andresen, president, Elmer Aggen and Gordon Doctor, are gratified by the vote, expressing as it does confidence in their recommendations.

The board's attorney, Franklin Klein, of Chicago, and a representative of the architectural firm of Kruegel, Wilkins, Healy and Moore, of Joliet, will attend the meeting Monday night.

Board members have visited a number of schools in the past several weeks to get ideas for the new building in the Doctor district.

The new building will have three rooms and so designed that additional rooms can be added later, of necessity, at minimum cost. The board expects to continue to use the present school if enrollment requires it.

The present building has two rooms, and the enrollment is 75. Forty pupils are in the first four grades and the others in the upper grades. The first four grades attend classes on a split shift basis. The enrollment is expected to be greater next year, it was said.

The 1957 Illinois State fair will be held Aug. 9 through 18 at Springfield.

In making this announcement, Gov. William G. Stratton said plans are being made for a 50-mile national championship motorcycle race on Aug. 18. Such a race would be the first 50-mile motorcycle contest ever staged on an oval track in this country.

The United States produces the greatest amount of iron and steel in the world.

After a series of meetings with the architect and teachers and visiting other recently constructed schools, the Orland Park grade school board is in virtual agreement in favor of a one-story plan for its proposed eight room addition to the present school plant.

The board has had nine different plans under consideration and is said to have narrowed its choice to two.

Members will meet again this week with Architect Zay Smith and the teaching staff for further discussion of the plans and it is expected that the final choice will be made soon.

The consensus of opinion expressed to date shows a preference for the one-story type of building. Such a type, the board believes, would be most economical to build and maintain.

The teachers are being consulted on interior arrangements. The proposed addition would contain eight class rooms, a teachers room and an office area.

It could be joined to the present plant from any of three directions, east, west or north.

Enrollment in the Orland Park grade school is growing steadily, according to Norbert Jerling, principal.

When final agreement is reached on the building program the architect will furnish the board with estimates of the cost and the next step, of course, would be to call a bond election to provide funds for the project.

The Orland Park grade school district was greatly augmented last summer when the Yunker district was annexed. Those in touch with the situation estimate the school population will reach 500 within a comparatively short period and it is necessary to prepare for it now.

"If a school could be built in a week or a month," a spokesman pointed out, "it would be possible to wait until the last moment before starting building operations but it doesn't work out that way. It generally takes a year or better to complete a job."

Orland Woman Hit By Car Escapes Serious Injury

Mrs. Amil Doctor, 53, of 158th and Wolf road, Orland Park, escaped serious injury in Joliet last week when she was struck by a car while crossing Cass street at Collins. The driver of the car, Mrs. Elizabeth Limbach, 72, of Joliet, was given a ticket by police on a charge of failure to yield right of way to a pedestrian.

Mrs. Doctor was taken to Silver Cross hospital where she was treated for bruises and then released.

Mrs. Limbach was making a right turn onto Cass street from Collins and told police covering the accident that she was half way around the corner when she heard a thump and then saw a woman near the car. Mrs. Doctor said she was part way across the street when she saw the turning car. She tried to get out of its way, she told police, but was unable to. She thrust out an arm and at that junction was struck by the right front fender and knocked to the pavement.

Area Students Finalists in National Tests

Virgil Hammond, senior at Lincoln-Way high school and John W. Kennelly, senior at Carl Sanburg high school were named finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition, according to A. H. Chapman, principal of Lincoln-Way and W. O. Fisher, principal of Carl Sandburg.

The youths are among the 7500 highest scorers on the nationwide college aptitude examination given to 162,000 seniors in 12,500 schools on Oct. 24.

The finalists now face a stiff 3-hour college board examination on Saturday, Jan. 12, plus intensive screening of their leadership and extra curricular records by a selection board.

At stake are more than 700 4-year college scholarships, many of them sponsored by business and industrial corporations.

The Jan. 12 examination will be given at the University of Chicago and at least 7,000 of the merit finalists are expected to make the grade, according to John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship corporation.

In the final phase of the competition, the other accomplishments and the character of the competitors will be evaluated, after which 700 will be awarded scholarships. The runners up will each receive a certificate of merit, attesting to their high ability and all colleges and universities will be notified, enabling these students to be considered for thousands of other awards and prizes.

The 700 merit scholars choose the colleges they wish to attend. The value of each scholarship varies with the financial need of the student, ranging upward from $100 per year (minimum honorarium) to $2,200 per year or more.

The colleges chosen by the

Seize Boy Thief At Orland Park

A 12-year-old boy whose speed and dexterity as a thief netted him $99.50 has been brought to book in Family court at Chicago and apparently has been granted probation.

His father has told court officials that he will pay back $64.50 which the boy had stolen on three previous calls on his victim. The remaining $35 was found in the lad's pocket when he was apprehended.

The thefts occurred at the Yunker Implement store on 159th and Wolf rd., Orland Park. The first three took place within a five or six week period preceding Christmas. The last was the Saturday before Christmas, Dec. 22.

The thefts occurred during regular business hours and on looking back the store force came up with this—they recalled seeing the same boy present on each of the days. Money had been taken out of the cash register twice, and out of the safe once. They decided to keep a watch. On the Saturday before Christmas their efforts were rewarded. One of the store force was out of sight but kept watch thru a peephole.

The boy strolled in casually, looking at various articles of merchandise until he had worked himself to position near the cash register. Seeing the clerk engaged the youngster moved swiftly. He had the register drawer open and the money out in a matter of seconds and would have been gone but at that moment the person in hiding stepped out and collared him. The boy had taken $35 out of the register and that was found on him. On being questioned he admitted having stolen money at the store on three previous occasions and his total tallied with those of the owners, $64.50.

He was turned over to Cook county juvenile authorities at Homewood. He lives in a subdivision near the store.

Small business has been defined as 'the seed-bed of freedom' and correctly so, because it is precisely on the right of everyone in this nation to work for someone or to go into business for himself.

"Bad Seed" Not True to Life Declares Clergyman-Author

by Rev. Thomas J. Riley,
(Paulist Service)

The movie "The Bad Seed" is not true to life. No person can inherit an irresistible impulse to commit murder.

In the film little "Rhoda," age ten, is portrayed as the victim of an inherited craving to kill. The girl's mother is respectable, but her grandmother had been a famous murderer.

The film raises the question: "Is it possible to inherit criminal tendencies? Do such tendencies, if they exist, destroy a person's free will?"

It is quite well established that the color of a person's eyes, hair, or skin may be traced to the parents. It is by no means as certain that such traits as friendliness, persistence or a bad temper as their parents it may be because they have been brought up under a similar home life and training, and this includes the important factor of parental example.

But even if faulty traits of a parent are to some extent passed on to the child, it does not follow that one must be helplessly victimized by them. There is no scientific ground for the theory that a person's destiny is hidden in his germ cells and fixed from the time of birth.

program and Glen Ferrell, devotions.

The local Methodist Men club is scheduled to meet the third Wednesday of each month for the promotion of Christian Fellowship and benevolent projects. Men interested in participating in the activities of the club are urged to contact any of the officers or attend the next meeting. Reservations for the charter night banquet can be made with any of the officers or committee chairmen.

Mayors Discuss Disaster Relief

Mayors from all communities in Will county are dining in Joliet tonight as guests of the Will county chapter of the American Red Cross for an informal discussion of disaster preparedness.

Constantine Macris, disaster chairman for the Will county chapter, will outline the plans that have been made to date and will introduce chairmen of the various divisions who will be in charge of shelter, feeding, clothing and medical care, transportation, communications and survey.

The dinner is to be served in the community room at the new Joliet Federal Savings and Loan building on Clinton street, at 6:30 o'clock.

Mayors from this area who will attend are, John Search, of Mokena; George Sangmeister, of Frankfort; and Lloyd Berlin, of New Lenox. Mayor Berlin will be accompanied by the New Lenox disaster preparedness chairman, Stanley Eckdahl.

Mr. Macris stated that the Red Cross always works with the established public officials in carrying out any disaster program and that should disaster strike suddenly in any community, assistance could be given much more effectively if every one knows how to do the job. A shelter survey will be made, emergency feeding groups trained and other key volunteers recruited throughout the county.

The Red Cross will work in cooperation with all civil defense coordinators in order to avoid duplication of efforts.

Murderers are made, not born. Little girls like "Rhoda" don't exist.

No one should be discouraged by his faults, and no one should be afraid to look them straight in the face. Whether or not these faults have an hereditary basis, it is always possible to build up strength against them. One can always adjust his way of living so that these faults will exercise only a minimum of interference.

Any Outlook on life which blames our parents for our own sins -- any theory which overlooks the possibility of self-discipline and the training of conscience, denies God's greatest gift -- our precious freedom.

A bad seed may always bring forth bad fruit -- but only in the orchard. We are not fruit trees blindly following the rigid laws of plant life. We are free men, capable of choosing for good or for evil, and responsible in the eyes of God for the way we make our choices.

The film ads give a piece of honest advice, "for adults only." Children should not see "The Bad Seed." Adults interested in psychological problems may find the movie interesting, but they must be on guard against the way it questions man's freedom to do good and avoid evil.

A woman knows that a husband is a peculiar animal who must be humored occasionally. So when Bill decided he was going to apply scientific methods to washday, I went along with the idea.

My time-saving husband suggested that I wash a small load of clothes every day instead of several loads once a week. But I balked.

"Now, look," I said coldly, "it's trouble enough to wash out my nylons every night. I don't intend to take on your shirts, too."

Bill looked smug. "The delicate fabrics setting on the new RCA

Whirlpool automatic washer provides the proper time, temperature and washing action for both my dacron shirts and your nylons," he recited.

"All right, genius," I countered. "What about wasting all that hot water on one shirt and some underwear?"

But Bill had an answer for that too. He said that the infinite water level control on this new washer automatically allows for a small 2-lb. load as well as a full 9-lb. load.

"This scientific method has possibilities," I admitted. "Of course, the first step is to buy the new wonder washer. And I have one more suggestion. Since you're always complaining about laundry hanging from the shower rod, how about ordering the matching dryer at the same time?" I prompted.

All in the interest of science, he did!

Need Teachers For Handicapped

Work constantly at recruiting teachers for special education, Jane Bull, executive director of the Illinois Commission for Handicapped Children, advised south suburban parents of handicapped children at a recent meeting.

"Without doubt, the greatest bottleneck in programs for special education is the dearth of teachers," Miss Bull told the recently formed Council for Handicapped Children (south suburban area), meeting at Faith United Protestant church, Park Forest.

"As individuals, and not just as a group, keep trying to interest younger persons, as well as persons with teaching experience," the speaker said. "Explain the challenge, the promise and the rewards of teaching the handicapped. There's also security, for a good teacher in special education need never worry about a job."

Miss Bull said that she knows of three Illinois college students who entered education training as a result of baby sitting for handicapped children.

One of the great lacks in setting up needed facilities, she said, is a census of school age and preschool children. At present none is required by law. Miss Bull made suggestions for the census which the Council for Handicapped Children has started in the south suburbs.

Formation of the council is in keeping with a recent trend toward organizing parent groups to talk over common problems and work on things they want done, the speaker said.

"The role of professional is very important, but there are things that no agency and no professional group can do," she said. "You are foremost, citizens, and when you get together and decide something is going to happen, it happens."

The needs of the handicapped are the same as any child's, she said, even though sometimes they are met in a special way and a little more must be done to provide for them. Among the needs mentioned were a loving and interested family, health, protection, schooling and fun.

Parents, educators, doctors and all others interested in cooperating with the Council for Handicapped Children in making a census of physically, mentally and emotionally handicapped and developing facilities for them are invited to contact the group's secretary, Mrs. Conrad DeHorn, 354 Oakwood, Park Forest.

So. Ill. Univ. Seeks Aid From Legislature

Southern Illinois university's building program is at least eight years behind schedule, said University President D. W. Morris in asking the board of trustees to approve a $39,319,000 budget request for capital improvements in 1957-59.

"We are now in fairly good shape to handle enrollments of eight years ago," Morris reported. "But in the past four years alone enrollment has more than doubled."

On Nov. 15, the board of trustees authorized the University to seek from the General Assembly $29,150,000, for new buildings and $10,165,000 for other capital improvements during the next two years.

The new buildings would include facilities for home economics, physical education and military training, college of education, industrial education and technology, school of business, geography and geology, an administration and service building, and a health unit. The budget also calls for completing the second stage of a Life Science building started in 1953, and the first stage of a building to house the school of communications.

Citing the need for better home economics facilities, President Morris said that some area high schools are better equipped than Southern in this department. Total class enrollments have increased 126 per cent since 1946, and only the lack of staff and classroom and laboratory space have kept the rate of growth from being higher. The Southern Illinois University is at Carbondale.

Big Issue In Congress To Be "How Much More?"

The big issue in the annual foreign aid battle in Congress this winter will be: "How much more?" In contrast, the question for several years has been how much foreign aid would be cut by congress.

Hopes of economy-minded members of Congress for huge savings in foreign aid—which would contribute to tax reduction—were dashed by the Suez crisis.

Congress is certain to aid western European allies; in spite of frequent criticism of Britain and France, congress believes the United States and western Europe nations must stick together.

The danger in the situation, from the standpoint of congressional economy leaders, is that necessities growing out of the Suez crises will be magnified into a new global Marshall plan which would unduly penalize American taxpayers.

November Milk Price $3.86 for "A" Shipments

Dairy farmers who shipped milk to the Chicago market during November will be paid $3.86 per hundred pounds for Grade A Milk testing 3.5 per cent butterfat and delivered to pool plants in the 70-mile zone. Harry L. Edwards, director of sales, Pure Milk Association, made this announcement based on price information released by the Milk Market Administrator's Office in Chicago.

This price is one cent below the $3.87 paid last month and for November, 1955. It pays the farmer about eight and one-third cents per quart before deductions are made.

Chief reason for one cent decrease from October, according to Edwards, is a somewhat lower total percentage used for Class I and II. This was only partially offset by a four-cent per hundred increase in the condensery pay price. This price is currently used as a basis for figuring the fluid milk price.

Total production for November was 367,232,743 pounds, some 39.9 million pounds, or 12.21 per cent above November, 1955.

Lincoln-Way Downs Conference Foes

Taps Oak Lawn 72-54 In League Cage Tilt; Loses to J. C., 88-53

BY FRED KIESLAR

Last Friday the Knights defeated the Spartans of Oak Lawn by a 72-54 score in a thrilling game played at Lincoln-Way. This game gave the Knights a conference record of 3 wins and 3 losses.

Due to the excellent performance of the entire team, the major portion of the Knights' scoring took place in the first half, in which they netted 56 points to the 21 points scored by the Spartans.

In the second half, however, the Knights scored only 26 points to the Spartans' 33.

On Saturday, the Knights played Joliet Catholic and the Hilltoppers won 88 to 53.

Sixteen of the Hilltoppers' 88 points were on free throws. They had 23 chances. Lincoln-Way committed nine fouls in the first half to J.C.'s one. The one free throw, which was attempted by Ron Fredin in the first quarter, missed.

In the second half Lincoln-Way again committed nine fouls with the Hilltoppers topping that with 11. Each team converted nine charity heaves.

Lincoln-Way's total record to date is three wins, eight losses.

High scorer for L-W in both games was Morris, "Red" Wade with 24 points against Oak Lawn and 20 against Joliet Catholic. This brings his total for the season to 196 points scored in 11 games, or an average of 17.8 points per game.

Bob Collier was Oak Lawn's high scorer with 22 points and J. C.'s high scorer was Tom Dedin with 18 points.

On Jan. 15 the Knights will again meet the Hilltoppers, this time on the home court. This tilt is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. or shortly after the frosh-soph game that begins at 6 o'clock.

Bremen Beats Reavis Rams But Loses to Rich

BY CRAIG FOSTER

The Bremen Braves beat the Reavis Rams basketballers on the Reavis court 62-51 last Friday night, Jan. 4, in a Southwest Suburban conference tilt.

The Bremen team's attack was perfectly balanced. Reavis played a deliberate game that held the scoring down in the second and third periods. In the first quarter the teams simply traded baskets, and at the end of the period it was 22-20 with the Braves leading. A close score also was in evidence at the half time closer, but the margin opened up in the third quarter 45-38. Bremen coasted thru the fourth period to victory. The Bremen scoring was well distributed. Ken Quain of Reavis took scoring honors with 20 points. Bill Birkhead of Bremen had 15 points, and Rich Tindull of Bremen was third with 14 points.

Rich Township high school took its 36th straight conference win over the Bremen Braves of the Bremen Community high school, Midlothian, Saturday, Jan. 5, 1957, at the Bremen auditorium. The final score was 91-59.

The Rich team outplayed the fighting Braves from the start. Their 6'5", 220 pound center, Dick Tanis, controlled the back boards thruout the first half of the game. In the second half he had help from his 6'5" teammate. Rich kept pulling away and widening the breach all thru the game. It was 22-14 at the end of the first quarter, 45-31 at the half and 62-47 at the end of the third quarter. The fourth quarter became a complete rout with a Rich township win by a 32 point margin.

Top individual scorers were Dick Tanis with 24 and Bruce Pradin with 22. Bill Birkhead and Gary DuBois of Bremen both scored 14 points, and Dale Hartwig scored 13 points.

Mokena Grade Fives Beat New Lenox to Keep Record Clear

Mokena grade school basketball teams started off the new year in fine fashion with a double triumph over New Lenox in league tilts last Thursday night, Jan. 3, before an overflow crowd in the Mokena gym.

The pony squad, the Meteorites, defending conference champions, scored a thrilling 29 to 21 victory and the heavies, the Meteors, romped to an easy 48 to 34 win.

These victories were the fourth in a row for Coach Jim Wrath's charges and left them in top spot in their respective divisions in the DesPlaines Valley conference with all wins and no defeats.

The fans who were fortunate enough to find sitting or standing room were rewarded with the most exciting game the Meteorites have played this season. Two baskets and a free throw by Johnson and free throws by Sheridan and Muehler sent Mokena into a 7 to 4 lead at the close of the first quarter. The Mokena defense began functioning smoothly and that with two baskets by Muehler and one by Sheridan left Mokena on top 13 to 5 at half-time.

The complexion of the game changed, however, when the second half opened. The Meteorites defense slipped and its offense lost its timing and besides all that New Lenox came out champing at the bit. New Lenox counted 12 points in the third period while the best Mokena could do was annex four so the frame ended at 17-all.

It looked as though the Meteorites might wilt under the pressure but with the chips down they came thru. Sheridan hit a basket only to have New Lenox tie the count but he wasn't thru. Sheridan hit two more in succession from far out to make it 23-19. Ulrich, of New Lenox, made it 23 to 21 with two free tosses. Muehler scored from the field and then Sheridan added his fourth basket in the period to make it 27-21 with only a minute to go. Johnson and Muehler each counted a free throw in the closing seconds to make the final score 29 to 21. Sheridan scored 13 points to lead both teams, Muehler followed with 10.

The Mokena heavies were confronted with considerable height but the Meteors were on the target from the beginning and didn't find the going too tough. Yunker paced the attack in the opening quarter with five baskets. Kruzich added three more and those with a free throw gave the Meteors 17 points for the period to seven for New Lenox. Three buckets by Morris, two by Yunker and one each by Gibson and Kruzich made the score 32 to 10 at the half.

In the second half Mokena reserves played most of the time when New Lenox cut the count to 37-25. Wrath decided a little insurance would be a good thing and returned the first string to the fray. Kruzich responded by hitting nine points for a total of 18 for the evening. Yunker was next with 14.

Eagles Win Four Out Of Five Cage Tilts During The Holidays

The Carl Sandburg Eagles won four of five holiday basketball encounters including the third place trophy in the Crete-Monee invitational tournament.

In the opening round of the Crete tourney, third ranked Sandburg barely outlasted Manteno 49-48 as Graninger with 14 points and Hill with 15 led the Eagle scoring.

In the semi-finals, the eventual champion, Crete, with a fourth quarter scoring surge defeated Sandburg 45-39. Erickson with 13 points and Aird with 11 led the Eagle scoring. In play for consolation honors, Sandburg defeated Beecher 57-53 as Aird lopped in 19 points, Erickson 13 and Hill 12. By winning two of three games in the tournament, Sandburg was awarded third place and a handsome memento for the school trophy case.

Last week-end, Sandburg was victorious in one conference encounter and one non-conference game at Clifton. The Clifton game was won by the Eagles by a score of 47-45 as Aird and Graninger tied for scoring honors with 12 points apiece.

Last Saturday night the Eagles journeyed to Oak Lawn for a conference game and blasted the Spartans 78 to 57. Little Junior Pat Ford was top scorer with 20 points. Aird and Graninger poured in 13 and 12 points respectively to assist. An odd feature of Saturday night's game was the fact that Pat Ford did not play the first quarter and fouled out in the early part of the fourth quarter and still scored 20 points as he sunk six of seven shots from the field and eight of nine free throws. In an earlier Junior Varsity game on Saturday morning with Rich, Ford poured in 30 points so he had quite a day for himself.

The basketball season continues this week with Sandburg playing Evergreen Park on Friday night at Evergreen Park and the playing host to Plainfield on Saturday night at the Sandburg gymnasium. In addition to these games, the wrestling squad entertains Rich on Thursday night.

45th AAA Housing Program to Be Credit to Area, Says Colonel

Government furnished Anti-aircraft housing in the Chicago-Gary Defense area will soon become a reality. Until early this year, the 45th Antiaircraft Artillery Brigade personnel have not had government housing for their families. However, individual houses of the "Capehart" type will soon be made available to them.

This construction project has long been the desire of all AAA personnel. It will provide key persons more time at home with their families, as present regulations require them to live 10 minutes from their station. This regulation is necessary because AAA units, both Gun and Missile units, are combat ready 24 hours a day, seven days a week. This rule means that those who cannot find housing with this limitation have to be away from their families several nights each week.

It is the desire of Colonel Frank T. Folk, 45th AAA Brigade Commander, and his staff

Francis, and Jeffrey Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Sigler.

With the location of these housing projects in or near the large communities, Antiaircraft personnel and their families will have a chance to become a more integral part of local community affairs. Regional 4-H Club Activities

The Frankfort-New Lenox 4-H club will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday, Jan. 22 at 8 p. m. in the New Lenox Lions Den.

New officers will preside for the first time, including Jane Oram, president; Jim Hobbs, vice president; Linda Matasovic, secretary and Ronald Steinberg, treasurer.

On the agenda will be various activities for the coming year and new projects to be introduced by Fund Raising Committee Chairman Irvin Truemunde.

Talks will be given by Linda Matasovic and Genie Marcoux on their recent trip to the National Western Livestock Show at Denver.

Recently, on Dec. 4, the club held its achievement night program at which trophies and cash awards were given to prize winning members. Present were 30 parents, guests and members, including Farm Advisor Andy Wicklein and the new assistant farm advisor, Alden Hickman.

Anyone between the ages of 10 and 21 who wishes to join the club is cordially invited to attend the next meeting.

AREA STUDENTS—

Merit scholars will receive supplemental unrestricted grants averaging $2,000 per scholarship over the four years to help defray the actual cost of educating the students.

The merit scholarship program is now in its second year. It was established in 1955 thru basic grants of $20,500,000 from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation. The National Science Foundation and the Old Dominion Foundation have given funds for research work. In the first year, 556 merit scholars were named, who are now freshmen at 160 colleges.

The competition is open to any public, private or parochial high school in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico and any high school senior may participate.

WHY AUTOMATION?

In 20 years there will be a 50 per cent increase in the number of American men and women over the age of 65. At the same time, the birth of more and more babies is swelling our population as never before.

These factors make automation, atomic energy, human relations—every method of increasing productivity—more important than ever before, because a smaller proportion of industrial employees must turn out more goods for more people who do not produce but who do consume.

Hungarian Family To Get Home At Frankfort

A Hungarian refugee committee has been set up in Frankfort and their goal is to raise $1,000 during the month of January, for the purpose of "adopting" a family from that Red-ridden county.

A committee was organized Jan. 6 and is composed of Ralph Dralle, chairman, Dorothy Woodman, Chas. Lewins and Al Swatek.

The money raised by the committee will be used to bring a Hungarian family from a refugee camp in New Jersey and establish it in Frankfort.

Al Hochberger, of the Frankfort State bank will set up a special account for the fund.

Frankfort residents have responded generously at the first announcement of the plan. It is a community project and everyone is being given an opportunity to help. Donations may be taken to the bank and checks should be made payable to the "Frankfort Community Refugee Fund."

The committee will select the family to be relocated, arrange for transportation, housing and employment. Chairman Dralle said: "All of us are aware of the desperate plight of our Hungarian refugee brethren and of those other displaced persons needing our hands of Christian help. We hope to bring a family of four or five to Frankfort by Feb. 1." A home for the displaced family has been located.

The Rev. Ben F. Day, pastor of the Frankfort Methodist church, which is sponsoring the family, is pleased with the enthusiasm being demonstrated. "It's Christianity in action," he said. "If everyone will put their prayers, time and gifts behind it, the program will be successful."

The March of Dimes inoculation goal for Cook county is 80 per cent of the county's inhabitants. If this goal is realized, there could be as few as 15 cases of polio in this area during the 1957 summer polio season.

7 File for Town Offices at Orland; Feb. 26 Last Day

To date seven persons have filed petitions for town offices in Orland Park, four for justice of the peace and three for constables. Two justices are to be elected and two constables.

Candidates for justice of the peace are George Flondor, an incumbent, Elston Oranger, A. S. MacKenzie and Roy Benson.

Those who have filed for constable are Frank Guetter, who trained the Orland Park police force and is acting as sergeant of that body; Theodore Ludes, an incumbent, and Robert Johnson.

Also to be elected are a supervisor, a town clerk, an assessor, a highway commissioner and a town collector.

Last Monday, Jan. 7, was the first day of filing. The last day for filing is Feb. 26. Nominating petitions may be obtained from Town Clerk Ralph Agate.

Salk vaccine does no good in bottles at a doctor's office. Make an appointment with the doctor for a series of three shots. Next summer you will appreciate the safety it provides.

Said neighbor to neighbor: "My husband's hobby is arguing about politics. How about yours?"

Each American contributed an average of about 15¢ toward the development and testing of the Salk vaccine. Let's finish the fight against polio!

Add Course on Parenthood to Adult School

"How to be Successful Parents" will be the title of a new course to be offered at Lincoln Way during the second semester of the adult education program. This course will be taught by Mrs. Mildred Foster who has taught similar material at Colorado A & M as well as at high school level. According to present plans, the ten sessions will be spent in considering the following topics: 1) team work, 2) physical care of the children, 3) the development of habits, 4) sex information and how to give it, 5) training in the use of money, 6) discipline, 7) relationships to the opposite sex, 8) recreation for small children and older children, 9) how security is provided, and 10) evaluation and tie-up. It is planned to have a number of guests who are specialists in certain areas speak to the group, such as doctor, minister, insurance man, banker, etc. This course is suggested for both mothers and fathers and would provide a fine opportunity for parents to have a night out together.

Another new course which is planned will be called "Standards of Rhetoric." The course will consist of a comprehensive study of the principles of grammar necessary for effective writing and speaking on the college level. Opportunity will be provided for individual composition and revision of that work. Review of a typical college entrance examination will be included. One of the main purposes of this course will be to provide an opportunity for students to do brush-up work in preparation for college entrance and students who are now regular high school students will be permitted to take this course. Any other persons who are interested in a general review of basic English grammar are invited to take the course. The course will be taught by David Cook.

One class in art will also be offered which will be a general class and will provide an opportunity for persons interested in art to select the particular art medium of greatest interest and receive help in developing the interest. This course will be taught by Kenneth Kinney.

Also offered for the first time will be an investment course taught by Maurice P. Angland of Mokena. This course will be designed to help interested people to get a better understanding of the investment world.

In agriculture, courses will be offered by Robert Van Rheaden. They are "Farm Tractor-Maintenance, Adjustments, and Repairs"; farm machinery maintenance, adjustments, and repairs; farm welding, and farm accounting.

Registration will be held Jan. 22 and 24 and the first classes will begin on Jan. 29 and 31. No classes will be conducted unless at least eight persons are registered for the course. The tuition for each course will be $10 for ten 2-hour sessions.

Sandburg Home Ec. Offers Course in Making Slip Covers

The home economics department at Carl Sandburg high school will sponsor a slip cover short course starting Tuesday night, Jan. 15 at 7:30 p.m. and continuing for the next three Tuesdays, Jan. 22, 29 and Feb. 5. The first meeting will be planned to familiarize the group with fabrics currently available and suitable for use as slip covering, preparations of material for cutting, estimating yardage required and equipment necessary or desirable for professional results.

Mrs. Al Kahmer, professional slip cover maker will give the demonstrations. A fee of $6 will be charged for the series of demonstrations which will be given only if ten or more persons register by calling the school office before 4 p.m. Jan. 14th. Fees may be paid at the first meeting.

NAM President Asks Jobs for Refugees of Terror in Hungary

Cola G. Parker, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, has called upon industry to give every help especially jobs, to the 5,000 Hungarian refugees who fled their homeland during the recent revolt against Russian Communists. They are being admitted to our country—to begin life a new, in freedom.

"Never before have we had a better opportunity to show our Republic's dedication to the welfare of individual human being", Mr. Parker said in his statement to the 21,000 members of the NAM.

"I call upon each and every one of you. Give these casualties of Communism food. Give them shelter. Give them understanding. But more than anything else, give them jobs. They have fought Communist tyranny tooth and nail. They have had to fight against tanks and big guns with sticks and stones, and with their bare hands. Untold thousands have died. Other have gone to a fate worse than death—to the slave labor camps in Siberia.

"Them we cannot help—not yet.

"But we can help the living especially the 5,000 refugees who are being brought on our shores.

"Others have offered them food and shelter, religious understanding, temporary relief. We of industry can offer them something in addition. We can give them jobs—a chance to make their freedom secure.

"We who have so many blessings can open our homes and our hearts to them, and show them that the blessings of liberty are no mere words, but realities on which men can build.

"As president of the National Association of Manufacturers, I call upon every member to help in this great cause. Never have we had a better opportunity to show our Republic's dedication to the welfare of individual human beings.

"I call upon each and every NAM member to give these casualties of Communism food. Give them shelter. Give them understanding. But more than anything else, give them jobs."

FIVE NEW FORD glamour wagons long, low and loaded with Go!

Leave it to the station wagon leader to make the big station wagon news for '57! And what news! Wagons so big, so full of fine-car prestige that you'll wonder how it can be done at low Ford prices.

Under the front-hinged hood you'll find new power—Six power!—V-8 power!—proved-in-action power.

Inside you'll find more usable loadspace. And the wrap-around liftgate gives you greater loading ease.

If your choice is the 9-passenger Country Squire, you'll be proud to pull up at the finest places in this new glamour wagon with its smartly distinctive wood-like trim.

If your needs call for a 6-passenger station wagon with four doors, you'll love the new Country Sedan. When you fold the rear seat into the floor, you'll find there's almost nine feet of loadspace—nearly a foot more than ever before.

There's still another 4-door Country Sedan. It has the extra third seat for 9-passenger room. And, as in all Ford wagons for '57, you have the new single-control handle which opens both the wrap-around liftgate and tailgate with one motion. And they can't be opened from inside!

There's good news, too, for fans of Ford's celebrated Ranch Wagon.

This 6-passenger, 2-door model features Ford's new subdued tones, the last word in modern decor. And when it comes to quiet, there's no wagon like Ford wagons!

In the wonderful way that Ford can take a fine thing and make it even finer, the Del Rio Ranch Wagon goes a step beyond the Ranch Wagon in style, fabrics and trim. It brings you 2-door, 6-passenger wagon-life at its best.

Better see for yourself—and soon. Take a Ford wagon for a spin. You'll agree that for styling it's a sweet-heart . . . for work and power, it's a nimble, obedient slave!

New '57 Fords have toughest shakedown cruise in history!

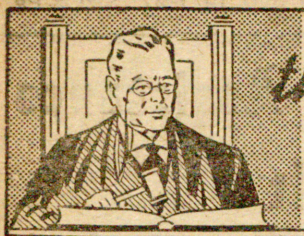

The '57 Ford broke 458 national and international records from 1 kilometer to 50,000 miles at Bonneville, Utah, in the most savage test in automotive history. For 50,000 miles, two '57 Fords averaged over 107 and 108 mph respectively. This time included all pit stops . . . the greatest endurance feat of all time!

CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

At the time a divorce or separate maintenance suit is filed, the minor children of the parties immediately become wards of the court. If the case is disposed of by the entry of a decree of separate maintenance or divorce, the problem of custody remains, because contrary to popular belief the children are not automatically awarded to the victorious or innocent parent.

The judge's discretion in awarding custody is very broad, but the decision he must make is often delicate and difficult. His principal concern and guiding test is to serve the child's best interests. An agreement as to custody between the parents does not bind the judge. If he believes neither parent is fit to care for the children, he will award custody to some other person, or to an institution.

Various Factors Weighed

Many factors are weighed by the court in determining who shall have custody of the children. For example, he considers the moral fitness of the parents, their condition of health, of wealth, their ability to care for the children, to devote time to them, and the age and sex of the child. Very young children are usually awarded to the mother, if she is a fit person. Wealth is not conclusive, but is a factor to be considered in the light of the educational and environmental benefits that the child may enjoy.

VISITING RIGHTS

Altho custody of the child may be taken from a parent, his right to visit the child periodically is jealously safeguarded. The law recognizes that parents have the right to visit their children, and likewise the child has a right to become acquainted with his parents irrespective of their character, nature or personality. So long as the parent's conduct during the period of visitation does not impair the child's safety, health, morals or general welfare, periodic visits will be permitted. Difficult problems confront the judge where the parent who has been awarded custody of a child desires to move his or her home a great distance, thus interfering with the other parent's visitation rights.

Custody Orders Temporary

All custody orders entered in connection with divorce or separate maintenance decrees are temporary, and are subject to being changed by the court at any time for any reason that has a bearing on the best interests and general welfare of the child. At all times the court may hear and determine questions relating to the child's health, education. When necessary or upon change of circumstances, the judge will order changes in custody, regulate rights of visitation, and enter orders for increased support or medical attention.

The law does not seek to supersede the basic right of parents to the custody of their own children unless the parents have shown themselves to be unfit, or have resolved to live separately, thus requiring intervention of the courts.

(This column is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under the law.)

Will Give Copies of Tax Foreclosure Suits to Villages

(CNS) - The New Year will bring something new in summons served when a city or village is a party defendant in tax foreclosure suits.

State's Attorney Benjamin S. Adamowski announced that a copy of the complaint will be attached to the summons served upon a city or village in these cases.

"The rule waiving the service of copies of the complaint to all other defendants in tax foreclosure suits shall remain in force," Adamowski said.

The British have a remarkable talent for keeping calm, even when there is no crisis.—Franklin P. Jones.

Red Cross Fund For Hungarians Short of Goal

Approximately $3400 has now been contributed to the Hungarian relief fund of Will county chapter, American Red Cross. This is about $1,200 short of the goal of $4576. E. B. Workman, chapter chairman, is urging everyone to make a small contribution who has not already done so as Red Cross commitments for Hungarian relief will extend many months ahead.

As of Jan. 1 the American Red Cross was operating two refugee centers in Austria and will take over the operation of a third camp this week. Teams of specialists in mass care have been sent from National Red Cross staff and volunteers are working with them in carrying on camp operations.

In addition to the work done in the Austrian camps, Red Cross personnel are on continuous service with the military at Camp Kilmer and at the ports of embarkation in Munich and Bremerhaven and on the navy vessels which have been assigned to transport refugees. These Red Cross workers furnish comfort articles, counseling and recreation facilities.

Your contribution may be made through your local bank or sent to Red Cross headquarters, 155 Scott street, Joliet.

Law On The Farm

BY NORMAN KRAUSZ

The 1956 tax law gives farmers a chance to deduct soil and water conservation expenses as a current business cost. Farmers who have a high gross income this year may want to incur such expense now instead of waiting until next year.

The expense must relate to conservation of land used in farming. This means that the land, either before or at the time of the improvement, is used to produce crops, livestock, fruits or other farm products.

The expense is limited to the cost of moving dirt, leveling, grading, and terracing, contouring, or constructing or protecting drainage ditches, earthen dams, watercourses and ponds.

It may not include costs of purchasing, constructing or improving structures that would be depreciable as business property, such as concrete drop-boxes, concrete dams, etc.

Assessments levied by a soil or water conservation or drainage district may be deducted if the work done qualifies under the above rules.

There are two other limitations on this deduction. First, it may not exceed 25 per cent of the gross income derived from farming during the taxable year. If it exceeds 25 per cent, the excess may be deducted in succeeding tax years, subject to the same 25 per cent limit.

Second, the farmer must decide whether or not to take a deduction for the first year in which he incurs conservation expense. Once he so elects, he cannot change without approval of the revenue commissioner. For example, if he capitalized his conservation expenses in 1954 or 1955, he must continue to capitalize unless he obtains permission to change. If he deducted these expenses in those years, he may continue to deduct in 1956 and future years.

Federal Aid No Bargain For Illinois People

By: MAURICE W. SCOTT,
Executive Secretary
Taxpayers Federation of Illinois

Taxpayers in Illinois would be better off standing on the corner watching all the girls go by than thinking federal aid is a bargain. The evil of federal aid for Illinois, whether it be for sewage disposal plants or roads, lies in the fact that taxpayers of the state always must pay more in Federal taxes than they get back in Federal aid.

However, thirty-three states got a "bargain" in 1955, because they received in federal grants-in-aid more than their estimated tax burden. The best example was Mississippi, which paid 35 cents for every dollar of aid it received. Arkansas paid only 37 cents, New Mexico and Oklahoma 39 cents, Alabama 43 cents, Louisiana 45 cents, Idaho 46 cents, Georgia 51 cents, Colorado 58 cents, Kentucky 62 cents, Arizona 63 cents, Maine 71 cents, and Kansas 76 cents. It all sounds like a gift from the blue, but actually it came from states in the red - fifteen to be exact.

The Tax Foundation, which recently compiled the grants-in-aid and tax burden figures, pointed out that during 1955, the tax burden borne by the citizens in fifteen states exceeded the amounts received as their share of the grants.

Heading the list was New Jersey, where it cost $2.36 in taxes for each dollar of Federal aid received. Not far behind was Connecticut, which paid $2.13.

Illinois paid $1.76, and Indiana, $1.71.

No matter how you look at it, Federal aid is a bargain in thirty-three states, but in fifteen states "it just costs too much".

Mayer Outlines Plan to Daley For Developing Port of Chicago

(CNS) A development plan for the Port of Chicago was outlined in a report submitted to Mayor Daley Wednesday by a professor of geography at the University of Chicago.

The report was prepared at the mayor's request by Harold M. Mayer, associate professor of geography at the university (Mayer has spoken at Tinley Park Associates relative to the future of Tinley.)

At the same time he released Mayer's 178 page report, Daley announced that the marine engineering firm of Tippetts, Abbott, McCarthy, Stratton has been retained to make an economic and engineering survey of the port. Such a study was recommended by Mayer.

The firm selected has done engineering studies for the ports of Philadelphia, Camden, Baltimore, Miami, Baton Rouge, Houston, Trenton, Buffalo, Detroit, and Seattle—as well as for ports in Turkey, Greece and Burma.

Mayer's report predicts quick development of the Lake Calumet port. Explained Mayer: "At the postwar rate of development of industrial sites, and with the present indications of a lively demand for industrial sites on navigable water, it is quite probable that Lake Calumet will be fully developed within a relatively few years."

When that happens, Mayer adds, "the proposed harbor at Burns Ditch in Indiana will not meet the subsequent demand."

He cited the fact that Burns Ditch is "off center with relation to the metropolitan area" as one reason for this conclusion. Another reason Mayer advanced is that Burns Harbor would be "incompatible with the character of other developments along the Indiana shoreline between Gary and Michigan City, including the Indiana Dunes State Park and high grade residential development at Ogden Dunes, Dune Acres, Beverly Shores and other shore line communities."

An Illiana harbor development was suggested by Mayer as the most logical way to handle the overflow shipping from Lake Calumet. The Illiana harbor would be adjacent to Calumet Harbor, behind an extended breakwater—with parts of the present lake area filled in.

Such a development was proposed by Col. W. V. Judson, of the U. S. corps of engineers in 1918, Mayer points out.

Mayer recommends that, because of the great cost of the breakwater extension and the tremendous area to be filled in, development of such an Illiana harbor be deferred until the need becomes more evident—"possibly within the next decade." In the meantime, however, he recommends that rights along the shore and in the lake be reserved to prevent incompatible uses from being established and to assure availability of the area for future harbor development.

Urges Quick Action

Mayer urged quick action to secure public ownership of some 1,100 feet of shoreline in Chicago between the southern end of Calumet Park and the Illinois-Indiana state line. This shore line, Mayer said, will be necessary to give Chicago access to the proposed harbor.

At present, Mayer points out, there is no government agency with authority to plan, construct or operate a development such as the proposed Illiana harbor. Inter state collaboration would be required, he explained.

A comprehensive metropolitan port authority should be created to coordinate planning activities, Mayer added.

One of the first questions that should be tackled by such a comprehensive agency, Mayer indicated, is whether the proposed eastward extension of the Calumet-Sag channel would be justified if the Illiana harbor development is undertaken.

This extension—already authorized—may be unnecessary, Mayer declared. "It appears that a greater potential industrial river along the route of the acreage may be available in an authorized Calumet-Sag east-Illiana harbor development than ward extension would be eliminated along the proposed route of inated."

Stage II of the Calumet-Sag Construction of the Indiana toll road parallel to the Grand project," he commented.

"In addition," Mayer's report Calumet also reduces the amount of land available for constructing the numerous rail-amount of land available for industry along that route, Mayer commented, and would increase way and highway bridges which now span the Grand Calumet greatly the expense of acquiring ing land there and developing access facilities along the route of the proposed canal extension.

Conflict of Interest

Over-all consideration of Chicago's port problems is being clouded, Mayer insisted, by conflicts of interest which affect government agencies involved.

Mayer cited a "serious conflict of interest involving the city in connection with Lake Calumet." Declared Mayer:

"As the result of previous legislation, the city long had the obligation to develop the area of the lake as a port and industrial area, but nothing was done, except for a minor bulkheading along the south side of the lake. Doty avenue, which was to have been an access road on the west side of the lake, became a part of the Calumet expressway route, interposing a barrier between the lake and the industrial areas to the west. Finally, the city turned over a quit claim title to the lake to the Chicago regional port district board, which proceeded with the development."

Another possible conflict of interest was cited by Mayer in this statement:

"The present interest of the city of Chicago in the possible development of terminal facilities in Chicago harbor is believed by some to be in conflict with the interest of the Chicago regional port district in developing what superficially appear to be competitive facilities in Lake Calumet. . . . Chicago harbor facilities will be mainly complementary, rather than competitive, but the port district, properly from its point of view, is apprehensive about any port terminal development in metropolitan Chicago outside of its own area."

The metropolitan sanitary district is also in conflict with the port district, Mayer asserted, pointing out that the sanitary district constructed and owns both the Chicago sanitary and ship canal and the Cal-Sag channel. The sanitary district owns land along both canals, Mayer added, commenting that there is at present no way of assuring that this land will be developed in a way compatible with port plans.

"The sanitary district has indicated an interest in developing port and terminal facilities," Mayer went on, "and is in direct conflict with the port district, since the latter includes the area of the Calumet-Sag channel as well as Lake Calumet."

Port District Criticized

Mayer criticized the Chicago regional port district as a creation of compromise -- which he said was neither a Chicago nor a regional agency.

Creation of the district, Mayer commented, "was opposed by some interests, including private operators of warehouse and terminal facilities, who feared possible competition by a public agency. The Port District Act contains many compromises, dictated by political expediency."

"Valuable though the activities of the Chicago regional port district are," declared Mayer, "it is not a complete port development and operating agency. In short, it is not the ideal answer to the problem of port organization and administration in the metropolitan area."

"The port district . . . now represents a sectional interest within the metropolitan area," Mayer asserted.

Mayer urged that the port district be made the nucleus of a "truly regional" port authority which would work with local industry and government agencies to plan the comprehensive port which metropolitan Chicago requires, with all parts in proper relationship, and with the Lake Calumet development as the core."

Mayer urged the city to take an active role in promoting legislation necessary to set up such a port authority.

Mayer's report called also for action on more immediate problems:

He urged the creation of a separate city department to handle harbor and port activities now under the jurisdiction of the public works department. The new city department would promote port commerce, supplementing activities by the port district and the Chicago association of commerce and industry.

Mayer urged the city to participate in cases before government regulatory bodies affecting traffic rates -- which Mayer said now discriminate against ed areas," Mayer predicted.

Great Lakes ports.

He urged that planning of harbor, port and terminal facilities be centered in the city's newly created department of city planning.

Future Is Bright

In revealing the text of Mayor's report, Mayor Daley announced that he has directed Ira Bach, the newly appointed head of the city planning department, "to make a study of public works projects, highway improvements, housing facilities and uses so that any plan of port development will be consistent with good city planning."

Daley agreed with Mayer that the future of Chicago as a great inland port is bright. "The port of Chicago has the potential of becoming the number one port of the nation and is already the largest port on the Great Lakes in tonnage handling," Daley declared.

Mayer's report called the port district facilities in Lake Calumet "far superior to any other major existing or planned comprehensive port terminal development on the Great Lakes."

As opportunities for industrial expansion are opened up by the St. Lawrence Seaway, Mayer predicted a greatly augmented demand for labor.

He foresaw a great demand for industrial land as well.

"For example," Mayer declared, "in the southern part of the Chicago metropolitan area from Blue Island to Gary there is an estimated 15,000 acres of potentially available industrial land. Much of it requires drainage, fill or other treatment, but, with the stimulation of the seaway, the Lake Calumet Harbor development and the Calumet-Sag channel project, it's not unreasonable to anticipate that a major part of the acreage will be developed within the next couple of decades."

The area, he predicted, might contain plants employing 600,000 workers who, with their families, would add over two million persons to the metropolitan population.

Most of these additional persons, Mayer said, can be expected to come from less economically favored areas--such as the rural South, Puerto Rico, and southern Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia.

"Because the area of Chicago is nearly filled up with most potential residential lands already developed, a high proportion of the population expansion will be in suburbs and in unincorporated

Concluded Mayer: "The necessity for comprehensive metropolitan planning and for better coordination of local governmental activities and services on a metropolitan basis is very urgent."

"The sanitary district has indicated an interest in developing port and terminal facilities," Mayer went on, "and is in direct conflict with the port district, since the latter includes the area of the Calumet-Sag channel as well as Lake Calumet."

Alien Address Forms Available At Postoffices

Chicago immigration officials announced that alien address report forms are now available at the Chicago Immigration office and local post offices for the convenience of the more than 220,000 aliens expected to report their addresses to the Government in compliance with the law.

Robert H. Robinson, district of the immigration and naturalization service, pointed out that it is important for each non-citizen to report his address to the government each January because of penalties for noncompliance.

"A willful violation," he said, "can bring a fine of up to $200, a jail sentence, and deportation. To avoid possibility of penalty, each alien should go to the nearest immigration office or post office during January, obtain an address report form, and return the card to the clerk after completing it."

The immigration official stressed that non-citizen should mail his own card.

The announcement followed a statement from Washington in which Immigration Commissioner J. M. Swing reminded aliens in the United States of the address report requirement.

In his statement, Commissioner Swing stated that the only non-citizens exempt from the address report requirement are persons in diplomatic status, foreign representatives in the United Nations, and Mexican contract laborers.

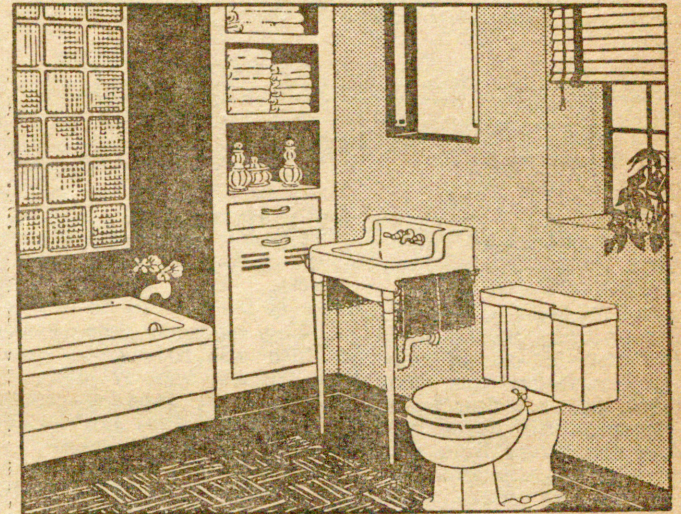

Any non-citizen outside the country during January is required to file the report within 10 days of his return.

CHICAGO AT BENTON

From The Upper Room

Read Jeremiah 33:1-9
Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not. (Jeremiah 33:3).

Some months ago I went out into the country to hold a service in the home of one of our members. The father was employed as a line inspector for a power company. His house was in sight of the power lines taking electricity to neighboring towns where it served to turn the wheels of their industries and light their houses and streets.

As is the custom in Brazil, we held our service in the evening. Strange to say, I found the room poorly illuminated; we held the service by the light of a smoky little kerosene lamp.

Curious, I asked my host why he used kerosene rather than electricity. He said they had no transformer, so the electricity passed them by.

This was to me a parable of prayer. God's great power is so near, but how many of us live without it for lack of the transformer—prayer! We need not live defeated lives, for prayer can give us the power to be victorious Christians.

PRAYER

Our Father, so many of us are living in the gloom of worry and anxiety. Grant to us the light of faith and quiet confidence in Thy love and kindness. Teach us to pray, so that Thou mayest send into our lives the light of Thy truth and the power of Thy love. In Christ's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Through prayer, God's power is available to us.

1956 Driest Year Reported in Chicagoland

(CNS) — The weather bureau reported today that 1956 was the driest year on record for the Chicago area.

Precipitation for the year totaled 22.23 inches. That's 10.55 inches below the normal of 32.78 inches.

In the 82 years for which there are official records, the previous record dry year was 1934 with 22.78 inches of precipitation—just about half an inch more than 1956.

The average temperature in 1956 was 51.9—and that's 1.8 degrees above the normal of 50.1.

In December, the weather bureau reports, the Chicago area had a cloudy and relatively warm and dry month.

The average temperature was 33 degrees—or five degrees above the normal of 28 degrees.

The highest temperature for the month was 62 degrees on December 5th. The lowest was 23 degrees on the 13th and the 30th. No temperature records were broken.

Precipitation in December totaled 1.26 inches—or .69 of an inch less than the normal of 1.95. Snowfall amounted to 8.5 inches. That's 1.2 inches more than the 7.3-inch normal December snowfall.

We had sunshine in December only 26 per cent of the possible time—compared to a normal of 40 per cent. Two days were clear, five partly cloudy and 24 cloudy.

Normally December would have seven clear days, eight partly cloudy and 16 cloudy.

January is usually the coldest month, averaging 24.9 degrees.

Ordinarily temperatures swing lowest during the third week of January. The normal daily range is from 17 to 33 degrees.

Lowest recorded January temperature was 20 degrees below zero. Highest was 67 above.

The normal January precipitation is 1.84 inches and the average snowfall is 6.5 inches.

Normally, 42 per cent of possible sunshine is present in the Chicago area in January.

On an average, there are six clear days, six partly cloudy and 19 cloudy.

Ten days normally have measurable precipitation and there are normally two January days with snowfall of one inch or more. Temperatures of zero or lower are normally recorded on two days, and maximum temperatures of 32 or lower are reached on 14 days.

As the fellow said, it's chile today and hot tamale.

Engineers Can Take Traffic Course at N.W.

A three-week seminar in traffic engineering will be held March 4-22, 1957, at the Traffic Institute of Northwestern university, Evanston.

George W. Barton, director of traffic engineering for the Traffic Institute, emphasized the seminar is designed for personnel with engineering training or experience. He said the course would be most valuable for junior traffic engineers, city engineers with traffic engineering responsibilities, and personnel working on a professional level in related fields.

The material in the seminar will fall into three main categories, according to Barton:

—Methods of research and analysis: gathering better data about the current street and highway traffic situation.

—Techniques of control and regulation: ways of making the best of existing facilities—such as one-way traffic systems, signalization, vehicle loading facilities, curb parking regulation, etc.

—Planning for future growth, including elements of city planning, highway planning and design, planning for public transit, and design of parking facilities.

In addition, a part of the course will be devoted to ways the engineer can communicate his ideas more effectively.

Barton said the seminar will consist of lectures and demonstrations by specialists from a number of engineering agencies throughout the country. In addition there will be discussions, laboratory work problems, and field trips.

Engineers who will benefit most from the training, according to Barton are the following:

—City engineers, or their assistants, from cities not having full-time traffic engineering departments—and where traffic is handled incidentally by the police department or the city engineer's office, or not at all.

—Inexperienced men from traffic engineering offices, whose knowledge may be limited because of specialization.

Tuition is $165. Applicants should meet one or more of the following requirements: (1) an engineering degree from a recognized college or university, or engineering experience on a professional level as a substitute for education, (2) current employment on a professional level in a traffic engineering office or organization, (3) employment in a department of public works or as a city engineer with traffic engineering responsibilities.

Application should be made to the director of training, Traffic Institute of Northwestern University, 1704 Judson Ave., Evanston.

Drive-In Bank Installs Turntable

The first electronically controlled automobile turntable in the mid-west has been put into use by a Chicago bank. Located on a lot adjoining the bank, the drive-in department has closed circuit TV, electric eye traffic control and two way inter-communication for depositors and tellers.

To make a deposit or cash a check, the customer drives in and as he nears the turntable he sees a traffic light which is either red to signify a stop, or green to tell him to drive onto the turntable. As his car starts on the table, it triggers an electric eye and a yellow light indicates "slow"; when he has moved to proper position, another electric eye flashes a red light, bringing him to a stop. Three seconds later the table automatically begins to turn, and continues until his car is facing "customer lane". As he drives off the turntable, another electric eye turns on the green light which signals the next customer to drive onto the table. The TV is used to compare signatures.

Obstacles are those frightful things you see when you take your eyes off the goal.

Correction: The December meeting of the Royal Neighbors of Orland Park was held in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gray in Orland Park, not on 104th av., Alpine, as was stated in this column last week. The Grays, formerly of Alpine, moved to Orland about two months ago.

Some of the young people of Alpine who attended the alumni dance sponsored by the National Honor society at Sandburg High during the holidays were: Walter Reeves, sophomore, with his friend, Miss Evelyn Giesen, of Chicago; Miss Terry Schmidt, alumni, with her friend, Don Anson, Chicago; Edward Lee Mrosek, alumni, with his friend, Miss Sandra Felsch, who is a junior at the school.

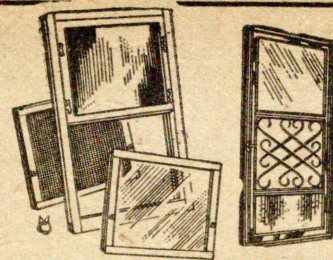

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Culp returned New Years Eve from Dallas, Texas, where they had gone Christmas day to spend the holiday week with his sister Miss Carol Wayner, and his mother, Mrs. Nell Culp. The presence of their son Stuart Jr. of Hollywood Calif., added much to the pleasure of their visit. The Culp made the trip by plane and returned early enough to entertain at a New Years Eve gathering in their home.

Income Tax Time Is Here Again --and No Relief

It's time once again to file your federal income tax return. Every citizen or resident of the United States, whether an adult or minor, who had $600 or more gross income in 1956 is required to file. If over 65, the income base for filing rises to $1200. April 15 is again the dead line.

Two American composers have written songs about the federal income tax, but to the average taxpayer news about the annual obligation is anything but music to his ears.

Still, according to District Director H. Alan Long of the Chicago office of the Internal Revenue Service, it's a situation where some 2,700,000 residents of the 26 northern counties of Illinois must now face the music, and pay up to the tune of an estimated $700,000,000.

Nothing much in the essential elements of the tax set up has changed, Mr. Long declares.

Forms 1040 and 1040A have been brightened and tightened, instructions systematized and clarified, but the tax percentage brackets are still the same as for the last two years.

Self employed individuals whose net earnings were $400 or more must file. Persons whose income was less than $600 must file quickly to obtain refunds.

The form and instruction booklet read together should enable most taxpayers to prepare their own returns without too much difficulty, Mr. Long said.

However, the Internal Revenue Service will offer taxpayer assistance at the local field offices from Jan. 14 thru April 15, 1957. The "selfhelp" plan will again be stressed.

Taxpayers will be asked to complete as much of their return as possible before seeking help from the revenue service.

In Chicago, taxpayer assistance will be provided at: Room 1, U. S. court house, Adams and Dearborn; 6 North Hamlin ave.; 38 East Pearson st.; 1030 Wilson ave.; 3256 N. Pulaski Rd.; 5020 S. Harper ave.; 7949 S. Ashland ave. 7919 S. Cottage Grove; 1122 W. 35th street.

In the area outside Chicago, assistance will be provided at 22 places including, Chicago Heights, 1306 Halsted st., Harvey 62 E. 154th st., Joliet, 201 N. Ottawa, and Kankakee, post office.

Then there was the wife of an English professor who entered his office to find his secretary on his lap. "George!" cried she, "I'm surprised!" "No, my dear," admonished the prof. "We are surprised. You are astounded."

Business and Finance

Maurice P. Angland

A number of the best research minds of the investment field, believe that 1957 may be a continuation of 1956 in that there will be a selective market in which some stocks enjoyed bull markets while others were depressed somewhat.

Increased earnings are expected in banks, ship building and sugar companies. Other industries expected to increase are domestic oils, steels, drugs, farm equipment, office equipment, and railroads.

A few days ago ELIOT JANEWAY, a leading economist, spoke before the Executive's club of Chicago and predicted that the new government plan of aid for the Near East coupled with expected wage increases, will push the price structure to record highs.

Mr. Janeway was guest speaker before a group of leading investment personnel, about three weeks ago. At this meeting (not reported in the press) Mr. Janeway stated that he is now more bullish on the market than he was during the 1953-1955 period. He was particularly bullish as regards Standard Oil of Indiana. He estimates that Standard Oil of Indiana has a per share asset valuation of $120 vs market price of about $62 per share.

He expressed as his opinion that the price of crude oil in the ground will advance to a valuation of more than $3 a barrel and that the increase would give Standard of Indiana common stock an asset value of $200 per share. It should be pointed out that since Mr. Janeway's predictions of crude oil price increases, the major oil companies have advanced crude oil prices $0.35 per barrel. Additional increases are expected.

Mr. Janeway is also bullish on aluminum stocks and believes there will be a shortage of this metal. There are three major producers of aluminum in this country - Aluminum Company of America with about 45 per cent, Reynolds Metals about 27 per cent, and Kaiser Aluminum about 24 per cent. Anaconda Copper Mining Co. produces about 4 per cent.

Some of the leading markets analysts expect further crude oil price increases and express belief that domestic producers and other producers of oil in the Western Hemisphere offer the best buys. Among those recommended are Ohio Oil, Seaboard Oil, Skelly, Amerada, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil, International Petroleum, and Louisiana Land and Exploration. Also recommended were the largest of them all - Standard Oil of New Jersey, as well as Royal Dutch, and Shell Transport and Trading.

It has been pointed out that those companies which are largely merely refiners and marketers of petroleum products, may not fare as well as producing companies.

There are several Canadian producers of oil which have been unable to market their production, on an economic basis due to lack of pipe line facilities. The Canadian Government with private interests, is now in process of developing what is known as the Trans Canadian Pipe Line. The larger American oil companies have been very active in oil exploration in Canada and a number of important strikes have been made.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the average hourly earnings for workers in petroleum refining last year was $2.46, compared with $1.88 for workers in all other manufacturing industries!
